JUST A Little Talk ON Boy's Clothing

TO MOTHERS who have boys it will be interesting. Where is the mother who is not proud of her well dressed boy? To clothe him right is just as essential as his success at school.

A well dressed boy commands respect as well as being made happy.

LION BRAND is the kind you should buy for your boy, it is so different from other makes; just like the fashionable styles in men's suits; made with wide shoulder, hand made collar, shoulder pad, double elbow in the sleeve, French facing sewn with strong thread. The knickers have double seats, double knees, and seams are stitched twice, just what they should be to stand the boys now-a-days. We are sole agents for this make, and our new stock comprises all the new and nobby styles at prices you won't think too high for such a good make. Come on in, and let us show you the Lion Brand.

P. DeFehr has purchased a residence property from C. Heibert. Gaddes & Findlay arranged the deal.

O. W. Hembling is selling binder twine for $9.18 per hundred pounds.

It is reported that the morning north bound train was wrecked yesterday, Wednesday, between Innisfail and Bowden. From the particulars that are to hand it appears that all the train with the exception of the Pulman and dining cars were thrown in the ditch. A few of the passengers got badly shaken up but we understand there were no serious injuries. The cause of the accident was spreading rails.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Osmond and family spent the week at Chas. Young's west of Town.

Sad Death

One man killed, a lady rendered unconscious, a flag pole on top of the Normal School shattered, 500 telephones rendered useless, windows all over town broken, caveins on almost every street, six feet of water in the Second Street East subway, putting the street railway partially out of business, is the record of the electric storm which passed over Calgary yesterday.

The fatality occurred at 1:30 just before the heaviest deluge of rain, when Paul Mueller, 18 years old, was struck with lightning and killed instantly. The accident occurred while the unfortunate victim was indoors, and although seven other people were in the room with him at the time no one else was injured.

Mueller was in the employ of Mr. Arthur Chamberlain at Bonnybrook, East Calgary, and with six members of the Chamberlain family, and a visitor, Nurse Graham, was sitting in the dining room. He was sitting by the window, apart from the others present, who were all grouped around the table. Suddenly a flash of lightning struck the house, tearing off several shingles and breaking about 12 windows. Everyone in the room with the exception of Mueller jumped to their feet with fright, and it was not until Nurse Graham noticed that Mueller had not moved that it was found that the lightning had struck him. Investigation showed that he had been struck and killed instantly.

Much sympathy is being expressed for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mueller, who lives about 2 miles north of Didsbury. The funeral will take place on Friday.

"The Smile That Won't Come Off"

In April and early part of May a smile on the face of a farmer was a rarity. Amid the seemingly unpromising weather of early spring most of the farmers faces were as gloomy and cold as the weather itself. It is true, there were a few old timers, who "knew the country," who were as cheerful as ever, but the majority were among the ranks of the grumblers. Passing along the street you would hear "Oh what weather," "It's getting serious," "It's a terror," etc., etc.

With the ending of May and the beginning of June, they all began as with one accord to put on (just a little at first) a smile—"The smile that won't come off."

With the splendid growing weather that we have had during the past months, the "smile" has grown just as fast as the crops, and now you see them around town chatting joyfully, and hear such exclamations as "My crops are looking fine," "Weather couldn't be beat," "Crops coming on great," etc.

Alberta has shown what she can do in the way of raising crops, and we can say with perfect assurance, that we know of no other country under the sun, that can do so much for the farmer as the province of Alberta.

Farmers, if you want to keep "The smile that won't come off," stay by Alberta.

While the growth has been phenomenal, all over the Province, we feel a conscious pride that we are among the first. Mr. Geo. Hoden, three miles S.W. of Didsbury, has reported to us that he had both barley and wheat headed out on July 2nd.

Mr. Jas. Eubank, who lives about 2 miles east of town brought some rye into town on Saturday 6 ft. 8 ins. high and all headed out.

When we realize that we are only into the first few days of July, and see these results, we congratulate ourselves on being privileged to live in such a Heaven blessed country as Alberta.

Excursion to Experimental Farm at Lacombe

The Alberta Department of Agriculture is making arrangements to have excursion trains run to the Lethbridge and Lacombe Experimental Farms. An excursion will be run from Strathcona to Lacombe on July 20th, leaving at 8:45 a.m. Extra coaches are to be supplied on the regular Settler train. On the Wetaskiwin Branch there will be a rate of one fare and one-third plus $1.05 from Wetaskiwin to Lacombe. Passengers will be picked up at Wetaskiwin by the Strathcona special and carried to Lacombe, returning with this train to Wetaskiwin the same evening.

An excursion will be run from Calgary to Lacombe on July 20th, leaving at 6:45 a.m. These trains will leave Lacombe on the return trip about 7 p.m. the same evening.

A special train will be run from Calgary to Lethbridge on July 23rd, leaving Calgary at 5 a.m., returning from Lethbridge the same evening at 6:30 p.m. A fare and one-third will be given on the regular train from Crow's Nest to Lethbridge. A fare and one third will also be given on the regular train from Walsh to Lethbridge, and on the A. R., & I. Ry. from Cardston and from Courtois, leaving July 23rd and returning on the 24th.

The Superintendents of the Experimental Farms will have several men to act as guides, explaining to people the various matters of interest to be found on the farms. Short addresses will also be delivered. It would be advisable for people to bring their lunch baskets as the farms are located at some little distance from the towns. Hot water will be provided free of charge.

These two Experimental Farms were established in 1907 and have both made good progress. There are many interesting features to be seen, and it is hoped that the people of the Province will take advantage of the cheap excursion rates to visit these farms.

Re Agricultural College for Alberta

To Editor of PIONEER:

Dear Sir:—The people of the cities of Strathcona and Edmonton, the Professors in the University, the University Senate and at least some of the members of the Executive Council of the Legislature seem determined that our proposed Agricultural College shall be placed at Strathcona and under the same management as the university proper.

In my opinion such a step would be the severest blow that the agricultural interests of this province could possibly receive.

As a practical farmer, and one who has devoted a good deal of time to educational matters as well, I desire to draw the attention of the members of the Legislature and the agricultural public to some very important facts, so that before any money is voted for this object, we may all be in a position to consider the question on its merits.

Fact 1. The most successful agricultural college on the North American continent to-day is the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. Would it not be wise for our authorities to follow the example of Ontario? The Agricultural College at Guelph is a separate institution. It is located about fifty miles from the nearest University and is not at all connected with the university except for examination purposes and the conferring of degrees.

Fact 2. During last winter the Professors of the Alberta University gave addresses in different places and tried to create a sentiment in favor of having the two institutions combined. For this purpose they cited instances where the Agricultural College was said to be united with the University and was a success. One instance given by them was the State of California. Now, I would not like to say that in this case the facts were purposely misrepresented, but I do say that those who made the statement did not take the trouble to acquaint themselves with the true facts. It is quite true that in the state of California the Agricultural College was connected with the University at one time. But the union was not a happy one. The Agricultural College was a failure. So apparent was the failure and the cause thereof, that during the sessions of 1905 and 1907 the Legislature of the State of California voted no less a sum than $282,000 to separate the institutions. They were separated and the Agricultural College was removed sixty miles from Berkeley, the seat of the State University.

Fact 3. Another institution that has done the same as California is the Agricultural College at Cornell University. Formerly this was one of the colleges of the University, but it has recently at a very great expense been separated from the University and made an independent institution under the able presidency of Professor L. H. Bailey, who was formerly Dean of the Agricultural College.

Fact 4. The Agricultural College of Minnesota has been cited as an instance of success resulting from the union of the Agricultural College and the University. While it is true that the same board of regents control both the Agricultural College and the University, they are in reality distinct institutions, and are several miles apart.

Fact 5. The case of the Wisconsin Agricultural College is also cited as an instance of a successful Agricultural College united with the state University. It is true the institutions are united and it is true that the Agricultural College is a success. We do not have to look far for the cause of the success. Here the Agricultural interests and the Agricultural men are the biggest things about the institution. Such agricultural men as Babcock, Russell and Henry have made Wisconsin what she is.

Fact 6. Sir William McDonald of Montreal has donated millions of dollars to McGill University. The departments of Chemistry, Physics, etc., etc., at that institution owe much to his generosity. Experience, however, taught him that though he was spending enormous sums of money, he was not reaching the sons and daughters of the farmers as he would like and we find him establishing the college at St. Anne de Bellevue.

If Sir William McDonald and Professor Robertson thought they could benefit the farmers of Ontario and Quebec by doing so they would have would have started their College at Montreal and affiliated it with McGill University. But they did not do so. The college of St. Anne de Bellevue is not connected with any University except for examination purposes and is out in the country.

Any practical man who will take the time to consider the matter can easily find the causes of the general failure of Agricultural Colleges that are closely affiliated with the Universities and located in large cities.

A course at such a College has a tendency to drive our sons and daughters from the farm. Few young men or young women can spend three or four years of a very impractical time of their lives in a large city and then contentedly go back to the farm. There is a tendency already for our young men and women to go to the city. If you think, as I do, that a rural life is best, physically, mentally and morally, we should discourage rather than encourage the movement.

When the Agricultural College is under the same management as the University and along with it, we deprive all but a rare few of the sons of farmers of the benefits of a course at the college. If the institutions are together the matriculation or examinations for entrance must be nearly similar. To pass the ordinary matriculation most pupils will have to spend about two years at a High School after passing the Public School Leaving examination. This two years together with the three or four years required at the College before graduation, makes it so expensive in time and money that very few farmers' sons will be able to take the course.

The work at an agricultural college should be so elementary and of so practical a character and is so entirely dissimilar to that of the ordinary arts course, that the two classes of students cannot be successfully managed at the same institution, and it is rare indeed that you can find a University Professor who is a success in the department of Agriculture.

Alberta needs an agricultural college that will help the greatest possible number of her sons. If farming can be made more agreeable, more pleasant, more interesting and more profitable than it generally is (and it can) our boys want to know straight away. Such a college should be in the country, of easy access, in a good farming community. The young man or woman who is at least 18 years of age, in good health and who has passed or can pass the Public School Leaving examination, and who has the practical knowledge which farmers sons and daughters at that age usually have, is in my opinion a fit and proper person to be enrolled as a student at that institution.

The course should be of as practical a nature as possible. Bear in mind we want these young men and women back on the farm when the course is through. A very limited amount of time in comparison should be given to history, literature, geography and grammar. None can be spared for the dead or foreign languages. For chemistry, botany and geology, only so much as shows the relation of the plant and animal life to the soil. Deal as fully as possible with grains, and grasses, forest shrubs, farm conveniences and beautiful home. A knowledge of farm implements and their care, farm weeds and their destruction would be worth millions of dollars every year to Alberta. See that every student has a knowledge of the different classes and breeds of farm animals, their care, uses and feeds, with a slight knowledge of their structure and common remedies for the more common diseases.

The students should board at the college. The institution should be as homelike as possible. The products of the farm, connected with the college, should be sold to the college at the cost of production. In this way the cost to the student of the Agricultural College need not exceed one half the cost to the student of the University proper. Such a college would be within the reach of an immense number of our boys and girls. The cost to the province need not be much. The benefits to the farmers' would be enormous and the results speedy.

Yours very truly,
O. TALBOT

The July Rod and Gun

"Big Game Shooting in the Yukon Territory," by that veteran sportsman, Mr. C. G. Creasey, opens the exceptionally fine July number of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont. It is clear from the account given that big game is plentiful in the Yukon and provides live sport for those who can afford time and money to travel so far. Mr. Reginald Gaurley predicts a good fall for hares and a consequent relief to the big game of the North from Indian raids. Canadian and American sportsmen should note and govern themselves accordingly. The Boreal Hunter for Sport is an article which will interest all dog lovers. These are but samples of a long list in which fishing and hunting topics come in for adequate treatment, while numerous short papers supply variety and enable sportsmen to pick up the magazine at any time, confident of finding much that will give them pleasant reading on topics which appeal to them all the year round even if the force is increased somewhat in the summer weather when the wild is calling in many ways.

Provincial Happenings

On Saturday last the Calgary Daily Herald was edited by the ladies of Calgary, under the leadership of Mrs. G. W. Kerby. The edition both in articles written and general make-up, reflects great credit upon the ladies of Calgary. The proceeds of the enterprise over the net cost of production will go towards the building fund of that city.

Boxing bouts and Sunday street cars were condemned by Rev. Mr. Kirby at Central Methodist Church last night. He intimated that it looked as if some of the aldermen had shown signs of weakness of the backbone in declining to prohibit boxing bouts altogether and in letting the matter stand over.

Sunday street cars were not necessary in any event till the city had a population of 50,000 and even then the question should be submitted to the people to vote on.

It was shameful that post office employees should be compelled to work on Sunday and lose their day of rest in order that Calgarians might receive their mail on the seventh day of the week. Measures should be taken to close the post office on Sundays as was the case in other cities.

Rev. Mr. Kirby also regretted that Dominion Day was not more loyally observed in Calgary. He drew attention, too, to ladies' head gear, and asked the feminine portion of his congregation to remove their hats at the church service.—Calgary Daily News.

While leaving the C.P.R. yards, opposite the station at Calgary, last week, William Anderson, foreman of the car cleaning department, was run down by a light engine. Deceased is survived by his wife and young child.

Ledue was the scene of a destructive fire on Wednesday last week, the Alberta Grain Co.'s elevator there being completely destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss will be about $15,000. There was insurance.

W. Smith, commonly known as "Spokane" Smith is not the best liked man in the province, but that does not in any way excuse the low and cowardly work of some miscreant who came along on Saturday night and cut half a mile of fencing on Smith's place. There were two wires on part and three wires and three wires on the rest of the half mile stretch and each wire was cut at every post. There were 152 places where each of the two or three wires were cut. Not content with this, whoever did this dirty work appears to have driven a bunch of horses and cattle into Smith's wheat. We hope the police will speedily get hold of the low knave who did this dirty action.—Crossfield Chronicle.

Three Hills

The Three Hills annual sports will be held on Friday, July 16th. There will be a dance in the evening.

Mr. Jones proprietor of the Three Hills Hotel is busy at work getting up a directory of the district.

Mr. R. W. Tunnell's steam plow is broke down, but will be to work in a few days. He is doing splendid work pulling eight plows.

Mr. G. W. Wallace had a narrow escape last Monday. His team got scared at the steam plow and ran away, upsetting the driver on top of him and dragging him underneath getting a cut on the head and a few other bruises. The team was unhurt.

Mrs. G. S. Greig, and daughter of Didsbury is a visitor at the Three Hills this week. They are highly pleased at the look of the country.

Mr. C. Davis is having very bad luck drilling a well for Mr. G. Wallace.

The local Improvement District has got a new grader and Mr. A. R. Myers is busy grading the roads.

Mr. R. Roberts of Three Hills won many hearts at the Rawdonville dance with his melodious voice. The song entitled the "Old Rustic Bridge."

The Post Office inspector paid a visit to Three Hills and found Mr. H. Evans books in excellent condition.

Mr. J. Wallace has taken the contract to pull out Mr. R. W. Tunnell's separator from Olds with his favorite black dog who carefully landed Mr. H. E. Davis machine without an accident.

The Boy from Town

Last night a boy came here from town To stay a week or so Because his maw is all run down And needs a rest, you know. His name is Cecil, and he's eight, And he can't skin the eggs—well, I'd hate To have a name like that.

He wears a collar and a tie, And he's hung by his toes; I guess that I would nearly die If I had on his clo's!

He can't ride bareback, and to-day He ast if roosters help to lay The eggs I pick for maw.

When our old gander hissed he run As though he thought he'd bite, And he ain't ever shot a gun Or had a homemade kite;

He never milked a cow and he Can't even dive or swim— I'd hate to think that he was me, I'm glad that I ain't him.

He thinks it's lots of fun to pump And see the water spurt, But won't climb in the lamp and jump, His clothes are off nice and fine, His hair's all over curls,

He hands out half so big as mine, He ought to play with girls.

A little while ago when we Were feelin' 'most dead, He suddenly got had at me, Because I bumped his head. There's lots of things that he can't do, He think that sheep's his lot, And he's afraid of ganders, too; But he can fight all right.

—S. E. Kiser.

The cow is the mainstay of the family and should be treated like a lady.

If a man would spend as much time creating opportunities as he does waiting for them, he would have no fault to find with fortune.—Herrick.
